

Summary of the gender pay gap

Gender pay gap reporting is distinct from Equal Pay, which means that male and female employees receive equal pay for work of equal value. The gender pay gap refers to the overall picture of average pay of male and female employees.

Northumberland,
Tyne and Wear
NHS Foundation Trust

Our workforce has an employee base that is predominantly female

1574 employees 4214 employees

27% 73%

Median gender pay gap
1.47% (in hourly pay)

Median male hourly salary £13.44 Median female hourly salary £13.24

Mean gender pay gap
12.93% (in hourly pay)

Average male hourly salary £17.55 Average female hourly salary £15.28

Proportion of males and females in each quartile

23.70% 76.30% 29.99% 70.01%

Lower Lower-middle

23.02% 76.98% 31.93% 68.07%

Upper-middle Upper

- 73% of our workforce are female.
- More female than males work part-time hours.
- More females than males hold lower banded posts.

The senior Agenda for Change grades

- More females hold posts 8a, b and c than males.
- More males hold 8d and 9 posts.

Our gender pay gap is +1.47%

Moving forward
(to be agreed by Directors/GB)

- New Equality and Diversity strategy identifies gender pay as an item requiring further consideration.
- To continue to progress the actions identified last year.

Figures taken 31 March 2018